About this book

Most days bring a small job that needs a tool: join two PDFs for an application, check a percentage, see your take-home pay, shrink a photo for a form or count the words in an essay. This book is a map of FreeToolr, a growing library of 1,000+ free tools for those jobs, grouped into 16 chapters.

Every tool in this book is free, works without an account and has no usage limit. Most run inside your web browser, so your files stay on your own phone or laptop. Every tool name in this book is a link: tap it to open the tool. This edition lists the tools open on 4 November 2026. New tools open every week, so for the latest list visit freetoolr.com/tools/.

How to use this book

- Start with the I need to... finder on the next pages if you have a job to do right now.
- Each chapter opens with a short intro and four tools worth trying first, with an example of when to use them.
- Then comes the list of tools open now in that chapter, A to Z, and a link to the newest ones.
- Live in the US, the UK, Nigeria or the Gulf? The Tools for your country chapter lists tools built around local rules.

Why FreeToolr keeps your files on your device

Many free tool sites upload your file to their server to process it. FreeToolr's PDF, image, video, audio and text tools do the work inside your browser instead. When you merge a PDF or compress a photo, the file is processed on your phone or laptop and nothing is stored by us. The few tools that need a server, such as AI writing tools or a website audit, say so clearly before they start.

CHAPTER 1 | 60+ TOOLS

PDF Tools

PDFs are how forms, contracts, CVs and school work travel. These tools let you merge, split, compress, convert, sign and protect PDFs. The file tools run inside your browser, so a private document is not uploaded to anyone. All tools: freetoolr.com/pdf/

Merge PDF
Join several PDFs into one file in the order you choose. Example: a 4-page cover letter, a 6-page CV and a 2-page certificate become one 12-page application.

Make a PDF small enough for an email or an upload portal with a size limit, such as a job site or an exam registration page.

LAST PAGE

Using free tools well

Check what happens to your file

Before you drop a private document into any website, check whether it is uploaded. Look for a line such as 'processed in your browser' or 'files are not uploaded'.

Check the formula and the date

A good calculator shows how it works and when its rules were last checked. Tax and salary rules change every year.

Keep the original

Keep a copy of the original file until you have checked the result, especially after converting or compressing.

Read AI output before you use it

AI tools are good at drafts and summaries but can be wrong. Read the result and fix it before you send or submit it.
